

Scherck Foundation Donates $150,000

Edward B. Greensfelder, president, has announced a gift to the Hospital of $150,000 from the Gordon Scherck Charitable Foundation.

This gift was made possible by the trustees of the Foundation, and Mrs. Gordon Scherck, as a tribute to the late investment broker in recognition of long range expansion plans at the Hospital. The funds have been designated as an advance gift for future construction.

In recognition of this tribute, the Hospital will name the new eleven-bed surgical intensive care unit, the Gordon Scherck Surgical Intensive Care Unit.

At the time of his death, November 20, 1967, Mr. Scherck was Vice President of The Jewish Hospital Board of Directors. He was Chairman of the Board of Scherck, Stein and Franc, Inc., stock brokerage firm, and was a former governor of the Midwest Stock Exchange. He was active in the Jewish Community Centers Association, the Jewish Federation, the Jewish Center for the Aged and the St. Louis University President's Council.

In accepting the gift Mr. Greensfelder said: "We are deeply indebted to the Scherck Foundation for making these funds available for future expansion at the Hospital. Gordon Scherck was a man of vision and progress. This gift will continue to reflect his character and close association with Jewish Hospital."

United Fund Goal $15,912

The 1968 United Fund Drive at Jewish Hospital has been scheduled for October 3 through October 18. Mrs. Virginia Reisinger, R.N., assistant director of nursing, administrative services, is chairman for the drive. John Bacher, housekeeping coordinator, is vice-chairman.

The United Fund goal for the Hospital has been set at $15,912. Last year, Hospital employees exceeded the goal by 31%, raising $14,380.

The Hospital United Fund Steering Committee has selected a theme of "Up-Up and Away." A fund-raising progress board using "Up-Up and Away Balloons" ascending a chart will be displayed in the ground floor lobby.

A mystery voice contest to select announcers for United Fund promotional announcements which will be heard over the Hospital public address system will be conducted by the Public Relations office.

Other members of the Hospital United Fund Steering Committee include: Robert Ahlvin, M.D., Mrs. Nita S. Browning, Mrs. Barbara Helmer, R.N., Robert Hickok, Ray Highfill, Mrs. Barbara Janes, Armand F. Jaquier, Ken Marks, Stephen Patz, Mrs. Ernestine Scott, Mrs. Evelyn Whitlock, Mrs. Bess Arick, and Miss Barbara Levy, secretary.

Research Grants For Physicians

Three physicians on the staff of Jewish Hospital have recently received research grants from the American Heart Association. The grants total $105,600.

Dr. Rex L. Jamison, director of the Hospital's Renal Division and assistant professor of Medicine at Washington University, has received $20,900 to conduct studies on the mechanism of calcium reabsorption by the kidney.

Dr. Louis V. Avioli, director of the Hospital's Division of Metabolism and Endocrinology and associate professor of medicine at Washington University, has been awarded $38,500 to study the relationship between excessive doses or vitamin D and heart valve obstruction.

Dr. Stanford Wessler, physician-in-chief at Jewish Hospital and John E. and Adaline Simon Professor of Medicine at Washington University, has received $46,200 to enlarge his investigation into the causes of thrombosis.

Dr. Wessler will be working with E. Thye Yin, associate in Medicine, in an effort to relate the clotting sequence as it is understood in test tubes to the problem of clotting as it occurs within blood vessels.

Cervical Cancer Program Renewed

Jewish Hospital has received a $21,773 United States Public Health Service grant in support of its cervical cancer detection program, it has been announced by Dr. David Rothman, director of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

The cervical cancer detection program, directed by Dr. Rothman, provides free pap tests for indigent women in the St. Louis area. The recent grant is the third consecutive one awarded to the Hospital in support of the program.

According to Dr. Rothman, women can be spared cancer of the cervix if they have an annual pap test. The test reveals changes in tissue which will develop into cancer in the future. If the patient is treated early, the condition is 100 percent curable. "Once a patient develops cancer of the cervix, the results are not as good. For this reason we urge all women to have a pap test every year," said Dr. Rothman.

DR. JOSEPH P. COSAND, president of the St. Louis-St. Louis County Junior College District, delivered the main address at the Jewish Hospital School of Nursing exercises held August 4 at United Hebrew Temple.

70 Student Nurses Graduate From Jewish Hospital School

Graduation exercises for 70 student nurses from The Jewish Hospital School of Nursing were held at 3 p.m. on Sunday, August 4, at United Hebrew Temple. David A. Gee, executive director, presided.

Dr. Joseph P. Cosand, president of the St. Louis-St. Louis County Junior College District addressed the graduates. Dr. Cosand urged the graduates to "give service with love." He commented that no group gets as close to those served as members of the nursing profession. "Through your attitudes, your abilities and your dedication, you will affect thousands of patients in your lifetime," he said.

Dr. Cosand added that the world is in need of dedicated professionals in many areas. He charged the graduates "to be true professionals, to put service above self, to serve with love."

Miss Margaret Loh, R.N., director of nursing, presented the members of the 1968 graduating class to Edward B. Greensfelder, president of the Hospital, who awarded diplomas.

During the ceremony, top honors were awarded to Miss Susan Landsbaum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Landsbaum, 7144 Vernon, University City. Miss Landsbaum won the $1,000 Jewish Hospital Auxiliary Award, given annually to the graduating senior who is first in her class. Mrs. Stanley M. Cohen, president of the Auxiliary, presented the award.

Mrs. Eleanor Durnell Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Durnell, 12009 Big Bend Boulevard, Kirkwood, received the $500

Hattie Waldheim Scholarship, as the second highest ranking student in the 1968 graduating class. Mrs. Morton D. May presented the scholarship. Mrs. Sandra Rauschenbach Kaminski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave A. Rauschenbach, 6041 N. Pointe, St. Louis, received honorable mention.

Samuels Establish Research Funds

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore R. Samuels and Mr. and Mrs. Julian G. Samuels have each established a $10,000 endowment fund for research at the Hospital.

In announcing the funds, Edward B. Greensfelder, president, said: "We are greatly indebted to Theodore and Julian Samuels and their wives for their continuing support of the Hospital's programs. They have again recognized the need for private support and have taken this opportunity to participate in the challenge of change in modern medicine."

Annual income from unrestricted research funds is used to provide support for scientific investigations at the Hospital. Jewish Hospital annually spends $900,000 on research of which about $200,000 is donated by private individuals.

The Samuels brothers, along with their father, founded Samuels Shoe Company in 1914 and continued in the business until the firm was merged with Brown Shoe Company in 1965.

Hospital Employees Describe Vacations

Between April 15 and September 15 each year approximately 1500 employees, students and doctors at Jewish Hospital take an annual vacation. No matter how long one has been employed, a year . . . or twenty years, the summer vacation is the high spot of the season.

The editor of the "216" invited a representative group of employees to describe how they spent their 1968 vacation.

Mrs. Evelyn Tackett, Tribute Fund Coordinator, traveled with her husband to Colorado. She said, "We visited Denver, Rocky Mountain National Park, Pike's Peak and the Royal Gorge. The entire state is really beautiful. I believe we enjoyed Rocky Mountain National Park most."

Mrs. Harvey Kaplan, secretary, said, "All I did on my vacation was to stay at home and loll around the house and swimming pool for two weeks . . . all on doctor's orders, unfortunately. I also went to the ball game and got soaking wet and was taken to lunch by some of my friends. In August, our entire family is going out to Las Vegas. That should be fun."

Mrs. Barrett Holder, admitting receptionist, had a very special vacation. "On my vacation . . . I got married and went on a honeymoon. We had a great time . . . lots of swimming and fishing at the Lake of the Ozarks. Later, we drove to Ohio and visited some relatives."

Mrs. Gilbert Blattner, chief operator, didn't get too far from her telephone operator career. She traveled to Denver, Colorado, and attended the International PBX Operators convention. After the convention, she toured Central City and saw the mountains.

Irwin Albrecht, associate director, traveled to the Northeast. He and his wife visited Detroit, Michigan and Windsor, London, Toronto, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec in Canada. They came back by way of upper New York and Lake Champlain.

Mrs. David Scharp, research technician, visited the HemisFair in San Antonio, Texas. "We spent two days at the fair. I believe I enjoyed the foreign pavilions most. After that, we spent five days on the beach where I went surfing for the first time. I got "wiped-out" oodles of times."

Miss Mandy Kopelwitz, instructor in nursing in-service, and three other Jewish Hospital nurses flew across the Atlantic to London. "For two weeks we had a ball," she said. "We took a show tour and saw 'Fiddler on the Roof,' 'Hadrian the Seventh,' 'Halfway up a Tree,' and 'Cabaret.'" Mrs. Hazel Burford, Miss Brenda Rhoton and Miss Rosemary McLaughlin accompanied Miss Kopelwitz.

Miss Carol Pohl, medical technologist, said, "I visited Colorado and Wyoming. I saw Yellowstone Park and the Black Hills of South Dakota. I really didn't do anything exciting except illegally feed some bears."

Mrs. Rose Glaser, accounting, traveled to Hollywood, Florida to visit her brother and his family. She said, "It rained everyday I was down there. I traveled by train and enjoyed the trip thoroughly. I met a lot of interesting people on the 30 hour train ride."

Mrs. Frank Kries, key-punch operator, "Our entire family went camping and fishing near Mount Olive, Illinois. Our two children, Beth, 9, and David, 7, really seemed to enjoy it. We didn't have any wild experiences . . . no grizzly bears . . . just cows."

DR. ARTHUR STRAUSS representing the Medical Staff Council poses in front of the recently erected plaque memorializing members of the Jewish Hospital Medical Staff. Names posted on the plaque include Leon Foster, Herbert A. Mazur, Milton Meyerhardt, Milton Smith and P.D. Stahl. Pictured with Dr. Strauss, left to right, are Mrs. Milton Smith, Mrs. Leon Foster and Mrs. Milton Meyerhardt.

MRS. STANLEY M. COHEN, president of the Jewish Hospital Auxiliary and Arthur E. Baue, M.D., surgeon-in-chief, are pictured with the Auxiliary clover plaque which is now located on the seventh floor of the Yalem Research Building. The plaque naming the floor is in recognition of the Auxiliary gift to the 1962 Development Fund Drive.

STANLEY E. SHACKNEY, M.D., observes the print-out of a time-sharing computer located in Chicago on a teletype in St. Louis. Dr. Shackney eventually hopes to simulate the growth patterns of human tissue and human cancer on the computer. Presently, his computer model simulates an animal cancer.

Hospital Resident Simulates Cancer Growth on Computer

A second year resident in Medicine at Jewish Hospital is experimenting with a revolutionary idea in cancer research . . . and that is, theoretically growing and treating cancer on a computer.

Stanley E. Shackney, M.D., a graduate of Harvard College and Harvard Medical School, became interested in this mathematical approach to research while he was at the National Cancer Institute in Bethesda, Maryland.

Dr. Shackney was serving as executive secretary of the solid tumor task force when he heard Dr. Howard Skipper of the Southern Research Institute in Birmingham, Alabama, express his ideas on the growth of experimental animal tumor systems and their response to drugs.

Dr. Skipper has shown that mouse leukemia L-1210 can be cured with a drug called Cytosine Arabinoside, if the drug is administered in proper doses at appropriate intervals. However, the drug is not curative if the dosage or frequency of treatment is changed.

There are presently three types of human cancer that respond well to drug therapy. These are choriocarcinoma, Burkitt's lymphoma, and acute leukemia in children. Dr. Shackney said, "Many scientists and physicians have felt that the drugs that have been used effectively in some types of human cancer could also be used successfully in other types of cancer if the appropriate doses and schedules of administration could be determined. The dependence of cure on dosage and schedule has been demonstrated by Dr. Skipper in L-1210 leukemia in mice. The fact that there are human tumors that can be cured by drugs given according to specific schedules suggests that the same basic principles underlying the animal work may apply to human cancer as well."

"The problem in both the animal and human studies is that curative schedules were, for the most part, discovered empirically. There has been no way of knowing why certain schedules are effective and others ineffective, and what has to be done to change a noncurative schedule to a curative one.

"If we could understand what was done right in the treatment of tumors that are curable, and then successfully transfer this information to the treatment of tumors that have been unresponsive, this would be a significant advance in the treatment of cancer. This has been one of the major concerns of the chemotherapy program at the National Cancer Institute."

Dr. Shackney began using the computer in his studies about six months ago while he was at the National Cancer Institute. He took courses offered by General Electric and received some help from others in developing his program. He said, "The program itself describes the growth of biological populations. It is a general model that can be applied to both normal and abnormal populations either in animals or humans."

"The first test a mathematical model must pass is that it accurately conform to what is already known. The ultimate usefulness of the model will lie in its ability to predict what has not yet been observed."

"In order to test the model, I first applied the program to the L-1210 mouse leukemia system because it is a well studied system in which a large body of data has been collected in the laboratory. If the model could be shown to be consistent with such a large body of data, then the model will have passed its first rigorous test."

"To date, the model has successfully simulated the growth characteristics of this tumor and its response to several different schedules of Cytosine Arabinoside.

"In order to test the model's ability to predict, I am working closely with the people at Southern Research Institute. They have sent me a set of conditions describing experiments they have performed. The results have not been published yet. They have provided me with a sealed envelope with their results. As soon as my computer time-sharing teletype arrives at Jewish Hospital, I will simulate these experiments on the computer without prior knowledge of the observed results. The results predicted by the computer model will then be compared with results actually observed in the laboratory. This will be the final test for the validity of the model."

Dr. Shackney indicated that the actual computer time required to perform his experiments is very small. The teletype is to be connected by long distance telephone lines to a computer in Chicago.

If his model is accurate, Dr. Shackney plans to branch out into one of the experimental animal tumor systems that has not responded well to chemotherapy. He said, "If, working together with the people at Southern Research Institute, we can cure these previously unresponsive tumors by working out schedules on the computer, this would encourage the hope that the same could be done for human tumors."

"I am also hoping to begin simulating the growth patterns and responses of normal human tissues . . . more specifically, human bone marrow. This is a tissue that is most commonly severely affected by the toxicity of some of the drugs used in cancer chemotherapy. Computer developed drug schedules will have to take into account that normal tissues are affected by anti-cancer drugs. Dosage and schedules will have to be such that toxicity is minimized."

$140,000 to Hospital from Goldsmith Estate

Edward B. Greensfelder, president of Jewish Hospital, has announced that the late Mrs. Eva Milius Goldsmith has left a gift of approximately $140,000 to the Hospital.

Mrs. Goldsmith died on June 2 after a heart illness of several months. She was the widow of Kennard Goldsmith who had been in the shoe business. Prior to World War II, Mrs. Goldsmith (then Eva Milius Hirsch) had run a gift shop and was well known to many persons in the community.

Mrs. Goldsmith long had an interest in medical research, especially in the field of heart disease and cancer. Her will, however, specified that the use of the funds should be left to the discretion of the board of directors of the Hospital.

Mrs. Goldsmith specified that the bequest is an endowment in memory of her parents to be known as the "Gus and Minnie Rauh Milius Fund."

Mrs. Goldsmith's mother was a sister of the late Aaron and Morton Rauh. Her father was the brother of the late George and Alex Milius. Her father had been a partner in the Rauh-Milius Cigar Company.

Mrs. Goldsmith is survived by an aunt, Mrs. Aaron S. Rauh, and a number of cousins, including Mrs. Frank Block and Mrs. Henry J. Scherck of St. Louis and William S. Milius of Los Angeles.

Blake Appointed Assistant Director

Jason P. Blake has been appointed an assistant director of the Jewish Hospital, it has been announced by David A. Gee, the Hospital's executive director. Mr. Blake came to Jewish Hospital in May, 1967 as director of materials management. Prior to that time he was an independent consultant in the hospital supply field. He is also a former member of the staff of Michael Reese Hospital and Medical Center in Chicago.

In his new position, Mr. Blake will be in charge of the Hospital's departments of housekeeping, plant operations and laundry in addition to materials management.

Equipment Purchased by Sachs Memorial Fund

The Louis and Sarah Sachs Memorial Fund, which was established in 1963 by Mr. Sam C. Sachs, will be used annually by the Hospital to support research programs or purchase needed equipment. This year the fund has been designated for purchase of equipment which includes a Stryker frame for reduction of pressure on seriously burned patients; an orthopedic emergency cart; and two crash carts which are specially designed for use by physicians in treating patients suffering medical catastrophes. The Sachs families and business interests have donated to this fund since it was established. Others wishing to contribute to the memorial fund may do so by sending gifts to the Jewish Hospital Tribute Fund.

JACOB G. PROBSTEN, M.D., visits briefly with the widow of Dr. Evarts A. Graham in whose name the Harry Freund Memorial Foundation recently established a visiting professorship. Seated next to Mrs. Graham is Owen H. Wangenstein, M.D., the first visiting professor, who attended the luncheon given in honor of Dr. Probstein.

Dr. J. G. Probstein Honored for Efforts on Behalf of Evarts A. Graham Visiting Professorship

A luncheon was given recently at the Queeny Towers, honoring Jacob G. Probstein, M.D., and inaugurating the Evarts A. Graham Visiting Professorship of Surgery at the Washington University School of Medicine.

Dr. Probstein was a member of the Department of Surgery during the years that Dr. Graham was the Chairman and Professor of Surgery, and it has always been the desire of Dr. Probstein to show his appreciation and gratitude to Dr. Graham for the many benefits he derived from this association.

This Professorship was made possible through the efforts of Doctors Probstein and Ballinger, and the support of Mr. S. E. Freund and Mrs. Harry Freund, Trustees of the Harry Freund Memorial Foundation. The first Visiting Professor was Owen W. Wangenstein, M.D., Emeritus Professor at the University of Minnesota Medical Center. Dr. Wangenstein was well acquainted with — and a great admirer of Dr. Graham's work.

Dr. Graham was known for his pioneer work in chest surgery and was the first to remove an entire lung for cancer.

Dr. Wangenstein also visited and spent a morning with Dr. Arthur E. Baue, M.D. at the Jewish Hospital.

Mrs. Evarts A. Graham and her son, Evarts, Jr., were among those attending the luncheon.

Dental Department Receives Grant

Dr. Calvin H. Weiss, director of the Department of Dentistry at Jewish Hospital, has announced the awarding of a $24,000 grant to his department by a major manufacturer of products used in oral hygiene. The funds will finance a study of dental materials.

Dr. Thomas Schiff, a member of the Hospital's dental department staff, is project director for the study. Dr. Weiss is project coordinator. A special light reflectance meter developed by the Monsanto Company will be used in the study.

Clover Garden is Rewarding Project for Auxiliary

By Mrs. Harry Milton and Mrs. Martin L. Brand

Our Auxiliary has learned that a small flower shop in the Hospital is a challenging and rewarding project. It is a great service to the families and visitors of our patients. It is a spot of beauty and cheer in the Hospital and it is, also a steady source of funds for the Hospital.

To operate such a shop requires very careful preliminary planning. It also requires an enthusiastic group of volunteers who are willing to work hard and who are interested in learning new skills.

Our shop is operated by two over-all co-chairmen, Mrs. Jerome Grodsky and Mrs. Irving M. Goldstein. Working with them is a chairman in charge of the designers who create our flower arrangements, another who schedules sales volunteers and yet another, who attends to billing, bookkeeping and related business matters.

Our designers must pass a course in commercial flower arranging. Garden club arrangers, no matter how expert, cannot qualify unless they take and pass the course. There is a vast difference between garden club arrangements and flowers offered for sale commercially. Trainees must learn not only how to create pleasing and saleable arrangements, but also how to make them economically in a wide price range. The customer must be pleased, but the shop must make a profit.

Those volunteers who have not qualified as designers, and others who have not taken the course, work as salespeople and general assistants. There are two on duty from 9:30 to 12:30 and two from 12:30 to 3:30 every day. We also have one paid worker on every shift to provide continuity and one on an evening shift because the shop is open seven days a week, as well as on holidays. These paid workers do not design flower arrangements, but care for the shop and plants.

The sales volunteers wait on customers, take phone orders, write up charge slips and deliver flowers to our patients. They must also prepare the fresh flowers according to professional procedures for the proper trimming and hardening of fresh stock. They keep the little shop swept and the shelves and counters dusted and in order. In their spare time they prepare ribbon bows for the designers, and busy themselves with the myriad details that a florist shop requires.

Our working space is small. The hundred-foot area is tucked beneath the stairway leading from the first to the ground floor of the Hospital. We have, in addition, two converted broom closets. One is used for storage and holds flower containers, bolts of ribbon, and so on. The other is fitted out ting soil, flats of growing plants and a variety of attractive planters and containers. There is a special corps of volunteers who are trained to pot up the containers attractively, price them and bring them out to the shop shelves from which they are sold. We have one volunteer each day who spends about two hours in the potting closet.

In addition to our chairmen, we have about forty volunteers a week. A shop volunteer chairman, working closely with the Hospital volunteer office, attends to staffing and to filling the inevitable emergency vacancies in our ranks.

Life-Saving Taught With "Resusci-Anne"

By Barbara Levy

The Department of Nursing, In-Service Education, is now conducting Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation classes for registered nurses and licensed practical nurses with the use of a life-sized dummy called "Resusci-Anne." "Resusci-Anne" was modeled after a girl from Norway who drowned. The father of this girl donated money for designing a realistic doll which would provide training for mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and external cardiac massage. As a result, "Resusci-Anne" is now used as a teaching device to demonstrate the procedures of reviving a person who has had heart or respiration stoppage.

"Resusci-Anne" has a breathing system simulating that of a human being and only by correctly performing mouth-to-mouth resuscitation can there be a proper exchange of air. "Re-susci-Anne" is designed to teach all methods of mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, with special attention given to hygienic aspects for completely sanitary use. A visual gauge for proof of restored circulation is connected to "Resusci-Anne." Also carotid pulse is simulated during the correct performance of this lifesaving maneuver.

"Resusci-Anne" is realistic in design with a movable head and chin. The head and shoulders are the same weight as a human being's. Lung capacity and resistance to air approximate those of an unconscious person.

In the Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation classes, instructors teach the students how to diagnose heart stoppage and the proper procedures to use in reviving a patient. The ability to help a person if he has had heart stoppage depends on the alertness in recognizing what has happened and the ability to act quickly and properly.

As an example of the effectiveness of the In-Service training program, shortly after completing her training, Mrs. Minnie Summers, L.P.N. on 6 Center, saved a visitor's life. Mrs. Summers was taking care of a patient when a visitor collapsed on the floor in the hall. Mrs. Summers quickly determined that the visitor had suffered heart stoppage and immediately applied cardiac massage and mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

The visitor was revived and was admitted as a patient to the Hospital. Mrs. Summers was commended by Miss Margaret Loh, Director of Nursing, and by House Staff members for her outstanding performance.
